

CORRIE STOKES

Corrie Stokes is the city auditor in Austin, Texas. Since joining the City of Austin in 1999, Corrie has had the opportunity to work in most areas of city operations including housing, law, public safety, transportation, planning, and utility services. She has delivered trainings and presentations on auditing fundamentals, fraud consideration, and various audit analysis tools. Corrie is a self-professed nerd, and is particularly nerdy about auditing, maps, and craft beer.

Corrie is a past president of the Association of Local Government Auditors, serves as a peer review coordinator for ALGA, and is the current chair of the Southwest Intergovernmental Audit Forum's executive committee. She is also a member of the Institute of Internal Auditors and Association of Certified Fraud Examiners. She is a certified internal auditor, certified government auditing professional, and certified fraud examiner. She has a bachelor of arts in urban studies from Trinity University and a master of public affairs from the University of Texas.

JIM WILLIAMSON

Jim joined the Office of the City Auditor in 1988, was appointed City Auditor in 2008, and has over 34 years of auditing experience. Jim has held several positions with ALGA including President and Peer Review Committee Chair. Jim has led numerous ALGA peer review teams, twice instructed the ALGA Peer Review Workshop, and authored or co-authored several ALGA peer review articles and publications including three ALGA Peer Review Guides. He currently serves on the ALGA Peer Review Committee as an at-large member, the Oklahoma Accountancy Board's Peer Review Oversight Committee as Past-Chair, and on the Board of Directors for the ACFE's Oklahoma City Chapter.
